

Loudspeaker Announcements

Announcement #1

How many times have you been asked, where are you going to college? Find the answer on StudentEdge, where you can use our college search tool to find schools that meet your criteria. Go to MyStudentEdge.com and get started today.

Announcement #2

Want to be a doctor? A sports agent? How about a forensic scientist? Find out how to get there with StudentEdge—your 24/7 college and career planning resource. It's free for you and your parents. Go to MyStudentEdge.com and log on today.

Announcement #3

Are you ready for the [SAT/ACT/PSAT/SAT Subject Tests]? Get prepped at StudentEdge, your 24/7 test prep and college planning solution. It's available when you are, and—even better—absolutely free for you and your parents. Go to MyStudentEdge.com and get started today.

Announcement #4

What do you have going on after school? Soccer, photo club, the school play? How do you find time to prepare for the SAT and ACT or plan for college? StudentEdge meets your schedule. It's the ultimate online college planning and test prep resource that's available when you are. Go to MyStudentEdge.com and log on today.

Announcement #5

If you could take your history test a second time, do you think you would score better? You have that opportunity with practice tests for the SAT, ACT, AP exams and SAT Subject Tests on StudentEdge—your 24/7 resource for test prep and college planning. See what the tests are like before you take them. Go to MyStudentEdge.com and log on today.

Announcement #6

Figuring out how to pay for college is no easy task. You have a host of options to consider, including scholarships, grants, loans and work-study programs. Simplify the process and learn how to make college more affordable with the StudentEdge advice center and scholarship finder. Log on to MyStudentEdge.com to get started today.

Announcement #7

Thinking about college and what you might want in a career? Now you have a 24/7 guidance partner in your exploration and planning. StudentEdge is a convenient online resource that lets you prepare for all-important college entrance exams, search for colleges and scholarships, and explore careers. Ask your guidance counselor for details.

Announcement #8

Not sure how to navigate the college and career planning process? Let StudentEdge be your guide. With a personalized to do list that suggests tasks based on your grade level and the time of year, StudentEdge will help you discover what to do and when to do it. Log on to MyStudentEdge.com to get started today.